

Tsunami or Tuna Sammie?

A Talk About Art & Dharma

by Robert Spellman

This event is presented by Naropa University's Summer Writing Program, part of the annual Dharma Art Masters Series lectures, exploring the vast common terrain of meditation and creativity. Free and open to the public.

Wednesday, July 1st, 2015 1:00 – 3:00 p.m.

Naropa University Performing Arts Center
2130 Arapahoe Ave., Boulder, CO 80302

Robert Spellman is a Naropa University associate professor in visual arts, contemporary performance, and religious studies. He is a student of Naropa's founder, Chögyam Trungpa Rinpoche, and a seasoned teacher of both meditation and art.